

Speak the Language of Your Customers, Investors and Employees

GlobalMeet builds an inclusive culture that breaks down language barriers, fosters team building, and improves accessibility and inclusivity with live interpretations or captions during events.

GlobalMeet helps you:

- Bolster equality among diverse groups by improving content accessibility
- Build an inclusive, open culture
- Amplify your message
- Foster improved understanding and comprehension
- Maximize business opportunities
- Increase retention and engagement
- Boost mental focus

Whether you're a global organization collaborating with partners, investors, and customers across multiple languages or an enterprise business with hundreds of employees around the globe, language captions, and live interpreters help create accessible, open environments.

By removing language barriers and increasing transparency, audiences around the world can understand and digest any type of communication. Research shows that when viewers can't understand or hear a speaker, they quickly zone out and consider the information less credible. This directly impacts your business revenue and reduces the effectiveness of your virtual events strategy. GlobalMeet's innovative technology unlocks one of the most significant hurdles to global communication.

Why Go with Professional Human Captioning with GlobalMeet?

- Increased accuracy as captions are done by a real human
- Multiple languages to choose from
- Robust user experience and increased transparency and accessibility

Why Go with Automated Replay Captioning with GlobalMeet?

- More cost efficient as conducted by a computer program
- Admins can edit the captions to increase accuracy

Increased Benefits of Captions

Both human and automated captioning offer valuable accessibility options for your virtual event, but they can also bring so much more. One of our event captioning options can make webcasts searchable providing text transcripts for you to use on blog posts, website pages, emails, and more. This captioning option can also make your webcasts more action-oriented, efficient, and productive, as viewers can quickly find information and specific topics during and after the event. When key points are easily discoverable, your VIP information can be hammered home.

Benefits of Our Caption Derived Transcripts Option

- Improves viewer comprehension and increases viewing times
- Quick keyword searching
- Reduces viewers' need to watch a long-form event again to find key information
- Increases accessibility to all audiences and languages
- Offers easily accessible text versions of event information
- Supports compliance
- Easy reference before, during, and after the event

With live human interpretation, GlobalMeet is helping clients deliver events that speak to customers, investors, and employees with up to 200+ spoken and sign languages to choose from.

Why Go with Live Interpretation with GlobalMeet?

- Broaden your global reach
- Understand and be understood in your language
- Support accessibility and inclusion
- Real-time human interpretation
- Increase engagement
